If you are fond of anniversaries, you might note that August 17th marked the 75th birthday of the oil business in the United States.

Farmers Are to Decide On Cotton Crop Next Season

Wallace Says It's Up to South On Whether Short Crop Pays

MARIANNA SPEECH

15,000 to 20,000 Visitors Expected to Hear Him

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace said here Thursday that the South must decide whether it is going to shrink its cotton production to its actual domestic needs or continue to grow a surplus for world markets.

Mr. Wallace paused here en route to Marianna, where he is scheduled to speak Thursday afternoon. It's a question of which policy will bring about greater prosperity for the farmer.

"With reduced crop this year, southern farmers must decide whether to continue to grow an 8,000,000 bale crop and compete with foreign trade, or whether to decide if a 6,000,000 bale crop is more profitable," Mr. Wallace declared.

Speaks in Marianna

MARIANNA, Ark.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace will be in Marianna Thursday to make the principal address at the annual field day celebration at the cotton branch experimental station of the College of Agriculture, University of Arkansas.

Secretary Wallace will arrive in Memphis Thursday morning where he will be met by an Arkansas delegation, including several state officials, representatives of the University of Arkansas and the Marianna and Lee County Chamber of Commerce.

Marianna has taken on a holiday air to herald the visit of Mr. Wallace. Welcome flags are flying over all the streets and the white waypools, proudly bear the red, white and blue.

According to information received by Miss Jeannette Blount, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Claude J. Byrd, assistant director in charge of the station, between 15,000 and 20,000 visitors will be here, growing sections of the Mid-South, to hear the address of Secretary Wallace and other agricultural leaders. Secretary Wallace probably will discuss the Bankhead control act and the present and future activities of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Others on Program

Other celebrities who will be present are Governor Futrell, Senator Hattie Caraway, Congressman W. J. Dwyer, Dr. A. C. Futrell, president of the University of Arkansas, Dr. C. O. Houston, acting dean of the College of Agriculture, University of Arkansas, Dr. T. Roy Reid, assistant director in charge of agricultural extension work in Arkansas, and John T. Stinson, director of agricultural development, Missouri Pacific Lines. Mr. Stinson will be host to Secretary Wallace for luncheon on his private car.

Continuing several weeks of preparation, everything is ready for this red letter day. The highways leading into Marianna have been put in first class condition, and the road from Marianna south to two miles beyond the station has been graded. The grounds at the station have been chemically treated to keep down the dust.

Laymen Acting as Attorneys Are Flayed

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—(AP)—Leaders of the American Bar Association struck Thursday at the laymen who practice law without proper authorization.

A program to stamp out what the lawyers say are the evils resulting from legal practice by bank and trust company employees and other laymen is being considered, with John G. Jackson of New York and Silas H. Strawn of Chicago leading the movement.

The contention of the lawyers is that much of the criticism heaped on the legal profession has been misdirected because of many non-lawyers practicing forms of law without the right to do so.

It is perhaps fitting that Col. Drake himself, died in poverty, his fortune lost in stock market speculation. Oil has built some stupendous fortunes, but not all of them have stayed in the hands of the men who first got them.

But it is not the wealth that the oil gives to individuals that makes the date worth noticing; but it is the change it has wrought in human lives. We are fond of saying that we live in the age of electricity. It would be nearer the point to say that we live in the gasoline age.

Out of that first oil well at Titusville come some of the most potent influences of modern life. The automobile, itself, which has changed us all so profoundly, depended on that well of oil. Neither—though this would have been no great loss—would the submarine.

An industrial age must live by its source of power; and the discovery that crude oil could be turned into such and extraordinary source of power as gasoline set our era of the industrial revolution on a tangent it could not otherwise have taken.

It cut down space on our vast continent, ended isolation, brought the country close to the city, changed our ways of living, our habits of thought, and our outlook on life. Our whole history—economic, political and social—took a new tack because of that well of Colonel Drake's.

That leaders in the petroleum industry are putting on an elaborate celebration at Titusville is very fitting. Our country has few birthdays more significant than the one of the oil industry.

William Feather, Cleveland business man, returns from a trip to Europe with the remark that, in spite of the depression, "this country is living on a plane that Europe will be lucky to reach in another generation."

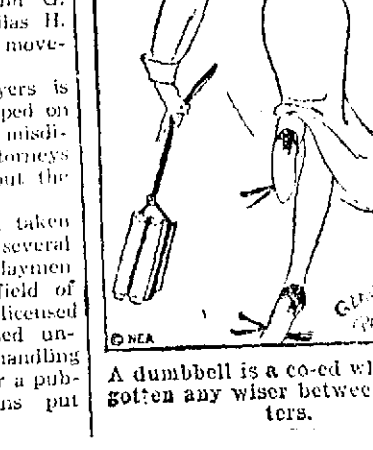

Conditions in England are better than those on the continent; but even there the plain people do not know as they never have known, a living standard comparable to what we find here after five years of devastating depression, he says.

Here is something worth remembering. It does no good, Heaven knows, to try to minimize the effects of the depression, to try to pretend that there has been little real hardship.

But it doesn't hurt to remember that, when all is said and done, we are still luckier than most people. The American standard of living is a heritage which even the depression has not wrecked.

Traffic authorities in London have issued a new rule that no automobile horns may be sounded anywhere in the city at night. The period of silence

Auto Accident Kills 1, Six Hurt

Sam Allen of Gurdon, Is Fatally Injured Near Arkadelphia

ARKADELPHIA.—(AP)—One person was fatally injured and six others were hurt in an automobile collision near here early Thursday.

Sam Allen, 33, of Gurdon, died here following the accident.

Mrs. A. D. Ashley, of Lambert, and four children were less seriously injured in the collision.

Rowe's Winning Streak Broken

Philadelphia Drives Him From Mount to Win, 13 to 5

PHILADELPHIA.—(AP)—The sensational winning streak of Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, Detroit's big 22-year-old pitching ace, was ended Thursday by the Philadelphia Athletics in the presence of 37,118 yelling fans, greatest crowd in the history of the park.

Thousands of others, eager to see the "boy wonder" seek his 17th consecutive victory, were turned away but no one knows better than Joe Schoolboy, himself, what it means to be frustrated. On the threshold of an achievement which would have wiped out the American League record and he now must share with Joe Wood, Walter Johnson and Lefty Grove, Rowe suddenly lost his magic spell and knuckled out of the box in the seventh inning.

Five-Run Uprising

Two blows in the fifth inning, the first a double by the veteran Bing Miller with the bases full and Joe Mauer on by Pinky Higgins, wrote "finis" to Rowe's streak. They accounted for five runs, gave the Athletics a decisive margin and led to Rowe's retirement, under continued fire, two inning later. Before being relieved by Vic Sorrell, Rowe yielded a dozen hits and 10 runs.

The Athletics won, 13 to 5. It gave the Markins an even break in the day's double-header.

"Didn't Have It"

Rowe's defeat, due, he said afterward, simply to the fact he "didn't have it," was his first since he dropped a decision to the White Sox June 19, in running up his streak of 16 triumphs he had whipped every club in the league, including the Yankees four times. His defeat was his fifth of the season as compared with 20 victories. Besides leaving him in a tie with Johnson, Wood and Grove for the American League record, the setback spoiled his chance to overtake the major league mark of 19, jointly held by Tim Lincecum and Babe Marquard.

Football Equipment to Be Issued Friday

Football equipment to the 1934 Bobcat team will be issued Friday, Assistant Coach Jimmy Jones announced.

Initial practice will start Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Practice sessions will be held once daily until Coach P. H. Hannon returns.

He is expected home next Wednesday from Florida where he has spent the past two weeks. On his return practice will be held twice daily, the mornings devoted to skill practice and the afternoons will be spent on the football field.

Prospects for a heavy and experienced team are very encouraging.

Kitchen's Lead Over Parks Is 354 Thursday

Only One Precinct Is Missing in Congressional Race

PARKER'S LEAD 6,035

Official Count Needed to Definitely Settle Both Races

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—With only one precinct missing at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, Wade Kitchens, Magnolia attorney, was leading by 354 votes over the incumbent, Tilman B. Parks in the race for representative in the seventh congressional district.

Official votes will be required to settle this race since there are approximately 700 absentee ballots to be counted.

With only a few precincts not reported, Charles Parker of Camden had a lead of 6,035 Thursday afternoon over J. Oscar Humphrey in the race for state auditor.

Auditor, Congress Race Close

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The officials returns probably will be required, to definitely settle the Democratic nomination for state auditor and congressman from the Seventh district as returns from Tuesday's run-off primary election, Wednesday night, failed to establish leads sufficient to set all doubts at rest.

Wade Kitchens, Magnolia lawyer and World war army captain, held a lead of 372 votes over Congressman Tilman B. Parks, Camden, for the nomination in the Seventh district, as one precinct and the absentee vote remained to be tabulated. Kitchens has 14,505 votes to 14,223 for Parks.

The vote in the Seventh district congressional race by counties:

Counties	Parks	Kitchens
Ashley	1340	1149
Bradley	967	1244
Calhoun	1561	1374
Chicot	950	1201
Clark	1251	1065
Columbia	536	1416
LaFayette	1914	1880
Hempstead	1019	1469
Nevada	1577	1135
Quenchita	2257	1881
Union	14223	14,595

Parker Maintains Lead

Charles Parker, Camden, maintained an advantage of 5141 votes over J. Oscar Humphrey, incumbent in the race for state auditor.

With 1721 precincts out of 2031 in the state in which a runoff election was held, reporting the vote stood: Parker 83,143; Humphrey 82,966.

These figures include complete unofficial returns from 29 of the 73 counties in which the run-off election was held.

The absentee vote is to be counted by the county central committee Friday, as returns from the election are certified.

Whether any county returns will be contested in either race probably will hinge upon the certification of the vote.

No election was held in Cross or Newton counties, nor in some of the precincts of other counties. It was therefore impossible to accurately forecast the total vote although estimates were made Wednesday that it would run to about 100,000 votes.

The state auditor's race tabulations Wednesday night accounted for about 170,000 votes.

Group Urges Ouster of College Trustees

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Exceptions to the report of Special Master A. J. Johnson were filed Wednesday with Governor Futrell and the state executive said he would confer again with Johnson this week before reaching a decision on the requested removal of three trustees of Monticello A. & M. College.

Johnson had said that he found no reason for the governor taking action against the trustees, whom were accused by the fourth district taxpayers of approving alleged illegal transactions of John Richardson, Warren, ousted trustee. R. W. Wilson, Pine Bluff and W. E. Spencer, Monticello, attorneys for the taxpayers, conferred with the governor Wednesday and asked that the report be set aside.

The three trustees involved are: W. C. Perdue, Eldorado; E. W. Gates, Crossett, and J. L. Longino, Pine Bluff.

Governor Futrell will go to Marianna Thursday Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and is expected to delay final decision on the Monticello case for several days.

Hurley Assails Liberty League

Former War Secretary Will Have Nothing to Do With Organization

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Patrick J. Hurley, Hoover secretary of war, denounced the American Liberty League as a "smear gang." He said:

"Various of my friends have been inquiring of me if I intend to affiliate myself with the American Liberty League."

"My answer to them is, that I emphatically will not do so."

"The Liberty League is financed by the same people and led by the same man that led the smear-Hoover campaign," and I have never joined a "smear gang."

"I deeply regretted seeing such splendid statesmen as Wadsworth, Smith and Davis taken in by the old 'smear brigade'."

"This is a government by majorities. The American Congress and executives represent a majority of the people. When the policies of Congress and the executives are disapproved to the electorate, a majority can change both policies and personnel. In my own short lifetime I have seen many such changes take place. Unless I miss my guess, in appraisal of the direction in which we are headed, another such change is not unlikely."

"If an opposition to minorities trying to rule the nation. It is ridiculous for any class to come forward with the statement that it is not represented. Every district elects a Congressman and every state two senators. All the voters have a right to vote for the president. I accept the decision of the majority."

"Good sportsmanship as well as good Americanism require us to bow to the will of the majority. Owing to our system of universal education a majority of the voters are intelligent. If the majority finds that it has embarked upon policies that are detrimental to the welfare of the nation and the well being of the citizens, it will be as anxious to change those policies as it will be to inaugurate them."

Foreclosures On Farm Land Ended

Farmers May Appeal to County Debt Adjustment Committee

Farmers who are facing mortgage foreclosure need not worry over the matter since the usage in the last Congress of a law allowing them several years in which to redeem their land, says L. H. Hilder, Nevada county agent.

Where foreclosure is threatened, or where an individual feels that his mortgage debt is too high, application can be made for a hearing before the County Debt Adjustment Committee and a reduction of the debt might be negotiated.

It is expected that many persons now burdened with farm debts will now be in a position to take advantage of the bargaining power of this committee and secure a scaling down of their indebtedness. In Nevada county Mr. J. B. Silvey of Rosston, R. 2, is chairman of this committee.

An Argentina inventor has perfected an instrument which he claims will give warning of an approaching earthquake.

Recount May Give Hendrix Small Majority

Voting in the Stephens School House precinct, target for much criticism in Tuesday's run-off primary, will, in all probability, come up for a heated discussion Friday when the Democratic Central Committee meets to canvass returns and certify winners.

Votes cast in the Stephens box vitally affect one race—that of the nomination for county tax assessor. Standings of other candidates will not be materially changed.

Van Buren County Ballots Are Stolen

CLINTON.—(AP)—A theft of ballots cast in Van Buren county in the August 14 Democratic primary was disclosed Thursday by Arthur Tipton, liquidator of the closed Van Buren County bank in which the ballots had been placed for safe keeping.

One race has been contested. Marvin Hathcock filed contest proceedings in Circuit Judge's race in which Jack Holt of Harrison won.

Two other contests have been threatened.

20 Millions Asked for NRH Works

Thirty-four Counties Send Delegations to Little Rock for Funds

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Thirty-four county delegations listed $20,000,000 in projects with the state highway commission here Wednesday for consideration under the $3,428,040 NRH program to be launched soon. About half the works proposed were municipal projects.

James R. Rhynce, director of highways, said the commission considered all the projects "meritorious," and all will be considered frames the new construction program subject to the approval of the U. S. bureau of roads.

The commission took no action on the petitions but late Wednesday awarded contracts for three road and two bridge projects subject to approval of the federal bureau. Successful bidders on the contracts, which were awarded under last year's NRH program, were announced as follows:

Lee county, 2.5 miles of grading and drainage and gravel surfacing on the Marianna road north, state highway No. 1, Ben Hogan, Little Rock, $40,259.70.

Little River and Sevier counties, state highway No. 71, Wilton-Lockesburg road, concrete and steel bridge and approaches, Kochitzky and Johnson, Forrest City, $65,394.90.

Howard county, state highway No. 4, 1.7 miles grading and drainage and gravel surfacing on Nashville-Center Point road, W. W. Keaton, Little Rock, $3,369.50.

Scott county, state highway No. 71, one mile grading and drainage and concrete pavement on Waldron city connection, A. C. Kennedy, Poyen, Ark., $24,357.47.

Hot Spring county, Donaldson overpass on state highway 67, Kochitzky and Johnson, Forrest City, $55,493.55.

Counties which sent delegations to the highway commission meeting Wednesday included Sebastian, Miller, Jefferson, Garland, and Union.

Members of the commission said federal regulations require that 50 per cent of the new NRH appropriation be spent on federal highways. They said special attention will be given to uncompleted links in federal roads.

A part of the funds will be spent on secondary roads and a part in the municipalities. At least 50 per cent of the counties will benefit under the program and counties which did not share in previous programs will be given early consideration, Rhynce said.

Says Mussolini Controls Austria

Charges Austrian Chancellor With Being On Italy's Payroll

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia.—(AP)—Fruzt Winkler, former Austrian vice chancellor, charges Thursday that Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, present vice chancellor, "has been on Mussolini's payroll since 1923."

"Austria today is completely in the hands of Mussolini," Winkler said. Winkler said that von Starhemberg has received not less than a million dollars since 1923 to do Italy's dirty work in Austria.

The former vice chancellor also charged that Starhemberg had been receiving pay from Austria over a period of two years to fight Communism.

Bomb Explodes Wrecking Ship

Four Persons Narrowly Escape Injury When Plane Blazes

WAXAHACHIE, Texas.—(AP)—Four persons, including James A. Baze, synthetic rainmaker, miraculously escaped death or serious injury late Wednesday when a bomb exploded prematurely after it had been tossed over the side of the plane which they occupied, wrecking the ship in mid-air. Pilot Lou Foote of Dallas brought the damaged ship to earth.

The ship was ablaze as it reached the earth and the four occupants were rescued.

Thomas Mooney May Get Pardon

Sinclair Promises His Release If Elected Governor

SAN FRANCISCO.—(AP)—If Upton Sinclair is elected governor of California, he says his first official act will be to pardon Thomas Mooney, convicted 1916 San Francisco Preparedness Day bomber, who has applied to five governors for pardon without success.

In his book, "I Governor of California," in which he envisioned his four years in office and which helped him win the Democratic nomination, the former Socialist author wrote:

"Immediately after having taken the oath of office, he (Sinclair) stepped into the office of California's first action is to sign a pardon for Thomas J. Mooney. I commission a messenger to take this document to the warden of San Quentin prison, and obtain Mooney's release. At this time I offer to him my profound apologies for the injustice which the State of California has done to him for the past eight years. Ten persons were injured fatally and 40 others were injured in the 1916 bombing for which Mooney and Warren K. Billings were now in Folsom prison, were sentenced to life imprisonment."

Something Should Be Done About These Bathysphere Tales

with pumice. Be extremely gentle and don't try to remove all the dead skin and discoloration the first time. Massage bleaching cream upward from fingertips to shoulders each time after you've washed them. Give it a few minutes to absorb and then remove with cleansing tissue. Apply a bleaching lotion and let it dry before you get dressed. Remember that correct arm make-up will go a long way toward covering up skin defects until you've had time to get rid of those defects. Use your complexion foundation lotion on your arms and powder them just as carefully as you do your face. Using cotton pads, pat on a generous coat of powder, leave it for a few moments and then remove the excess with a small complexion brush.

BEACH CLUB GIRL

BEACH CLUB GIRL is the prettiest girl in Larchmont, fashionable New York suburb, but her father's financial reverses make it hard for her to keep up with her crowd. Wealthy SYLVIA RIVERS schemes to force Boots to resign from the Junior. Boots' hurt. Boots accepts the attentions of RUSS LUND, the swimming instructor. "She realizes she is in love with Russ when he tells her he is going away. He wants her to do with her—where are you going to go afterward? Back to the old folks?" Russ grinned. "Might not be a bad idea, at that."

Russ demanded, stretching his length out in a deep overstuffed chair with sagging springs. HIS brother's wife shrugged shapely shoulders. "Oh, I guess maybe," she told him vaguely. "I was going to take a run over to Brooklyn to see the folks, but that can wait. But what are you going to do with her—where are you going to go afterward? Back to the old folks?" Russ grinned. "Might not be a bad idea, at that."

Lou heaved himself up from his chair. "O. K. Come on, kid. I can read in the bedroom. Fix him up here." Gloria opened her mouth to say something sarcastic and closed it again. It might be worth while to kid Lou's brother along if he was really marrying some society doll up in Westchester. Gloria rather fancied the idea of seeing the polo-playing, yachting crowd at first hand instead of pecking at their exploits as shown in the news reels. So she arose with an appearance of amiability and began to open the collapsed day bed. Gray and dingy sheets were revealed and a discouraged looking gray blanket.

CHAPTER XIX

THE girl facing Russ was blond, honey blond, and her brows were sketched in lightly with a black pencil. They formed half moons, inverted, over light-blue eyes rimmed with mascara. She had on a pink house dress, not too clean, two or three buttons missing. Her white shoes were well worn and the laces knotted carelessly where they had been broken. The room in which she sat was of the kitchen of a flat in a group of flats, an unbroken stretch of sameness in a dreary block. Stove, sink, refrigerator were present in all their modern compactness, but in spite of the shallow molding of imitation tile, in spite of the glimmer curtains at the windows, the room had a sleazy, down at the heels air.

What's she like? the girl asked. "She's cute," Russ said cautiously. He fumbled in his pocket for a cigarette and, finding one, lit it. "She's class," he further added. "The have—the old man has a big house up in Larchmont." "Rich, huh?" the blond girl asked interestedly, tracing a pattern with her forefinger in the crumbs scattered on the enamel table top.

MEANTIME DENIS Fenway, riding home on the 10:30 train, shaking from his feet the dust of the city's hot pavements, was conscious of a deep sense of irritation and disappointment. Naturally, he told himself for the hundredth time, it was none of his business what Boots Raeburn did with herself. Why, he scarcely knew her; had only spoken to her, all told, for five or ten minutes. Yet there had been something so virginal, so untouched about her that it had been a shock to see her emerge from that obviously second-rate hotel on the arm of a big bruiser. "I've seen that chap before," Denis told himself, annoyed at his inability to remember when or where. As the train clicked over the ties, eastward bound, the air grew cooler, became salty. Denis' fist crashed into his open palm. "The life guard," he said aloud. Yes, he remembered now. Ah, but probably Boots had met the fellow by accident. There wasn't any real significance in their being together. For an instant a chill feeling of guilt swept Denis' conscience. Why hadn't he acknowledged the fact that he had seen her, at least by a bow? Why had he looked away, so quickly and coldly, pretending he did not recognize her? He admitted he had been a bit callous in his reactions. Oh, well, tomorrow he would call her up and let her know about this opening at the publishing house. It might lead to something. Or perhaps he would drop her a line, sit down at Lou's little guest room desk when he got home. He liked the idea of writing that girl a note. Something simple and friendly. He might even suggest their meeting in town for tea whenever she went in to see Masterston. He got off the train at Larchmont in a fine glow and swung up the street away from the station, smiling to himself. Yes, he would do that.

He shrugged. "Maybe. Anyhow, they've got something." "Well, I'll give you a piece of my mind," the blond girl said dispassionately, rising and languidly turning on the hot water faucet. "I think you're plain nuts. Marry her!"

"Aw, can that!" The snow gathered, darkened, on his face. "Wait till somebody asks you for advice."

It's none of my business, of course," pursued the girl, quite as if he had not spoken. "It's your funeral. . . . I'll wash those after a while, Lou," she said in an aside to a thin, big-eyed young man who now sauntered in. She stacked the dishes, three or four greasy plates, and a bit of pumice. Scrub the shoulders, arms, elbows and hands not only with a washcloth and soap and water but with the little brush. Then, if your elbows are covered with a dried skin, rub them once a week.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

Smooth, white arms and elbows, always an asset to a girl's beauty, become even more important in the fall when it's time to start wearing elbow crease, formal or informal dresses. The sun-tanned, roughened skin that was quite fashionable on the beach simply has no place in glamorous ballrooms. So you'll want to make an improvement. First of all, get a good hand brush and a bit of pumice. Scrub the shoulders, arms, elbows and hands not only with a washcloth and soap and water but with the little brush. Then, if your elbows are covered with a dried skin, rub them once a week.

Russ found no fault with it, however. "Tilted back in his chair, his large boots very much in evidence, he looked around him complacently and reflected that this flat of Lou's was a nice little dump and a bargain at $25. Of course, it was all right for Lou to settle down this way. He drove a truck for a bakery company, delivering from door to door, and made, Russ admitted, naively, "good money." Gloria wasn't a bad sort, although she had a nagging tongue and was always wanting to know what he did with his salary. He, Russ, had different plans for his own life. He'd travel some more, see the world first, then settle down in Larchmont with a real gentleman's job. The kid would see to it he knew the right people. After that, everything would be easy.

He emitted a yawn that was almost like a spitting scream in its depth and vigor and Lou looked up, frowning over his headlines. "You wanta hit the hay?" Russ flexed his muscles, standing. They rippled under his blue shirt sleeves and Gloria gave him a glance of grudging admiration. The big bum, she said to herself with good-humored contempt, I guess he's the ladies' delight, all right, all right. I guess he hates himself. "Can you come with us tomorrow? That's what I want to know."

Basket Factory Splits Double Bill

Wins Over Methodists, 23 to 6, But Lose to Julia Chester

Hope Basket Factory softball team divided a double-header Wednesday night at the high school athletic field winning over the Methodists in the first game and dropping the second contest to Julia Chester hospital. The results: Hope Basket factory 23, First Methodist church 6, Julia Chester hospital 12, Hope Basket factory 11, Hobbs Grocery 21, Monkey Greasers 20. The Hope All-Stars Wednesday night defeated Stamps, 5 to 2. The latter game was played at Stamps. Two games are scheduled for Thursday night. Williams Lumber Company will meet Julia Chester hospital in the first contest. Opponents for the second game will be Hope Auto Co. and Hope Greasers. The teams are well-matched and both games are expected to be close.

Simmon's Quartet to Sing Here Friday

At 8 o'clock p.m. Friday, August 21, in the auditorium of the First Baptist church, the music lovers of Hope will have an opportunity to hear one of the outstanding quartets of the South. For the second consecutive year the Simmon's quartet will appear here in a presentation of beautiful, uplifting music. Those who have heard these young men declare that the privilege is highly valued and more than appreciated and that their singing is indeed a delightful "sermon in song." We people of Hope may well consider ourselves greatly complimented at having this party include us on their tour, and can show our appreciation by filling the house Friday night. All are invited, all are urged to attend this unusual, yet worthwhile entertainment. There will be no admission charge, but opportunity will be given for all who will to make a voluntary offering. Don't deny yourself this chance to feast on music that thrills the soul.

Start Registration at Arkansas College

JONESBORO.—The registration of old students started at Arkansas State College Monday and will continue on through the week. New students, including freshmen, will start enrolling the latter part of the week and will continue to enroll through Monday, September 3. September 3 is the date for the formal opening of the fall semester at Arkansas State. Indications point to an enrollment somewhat larger than that of last year on the basis of advance enrollments to date, officials said. The curriculum at Arkansas State has been greatly extended this year and larger number of new courses are being offered. This is also the first year that graduate courses have been offered and a large number of students will carry graduate work toward a master's degree.

ST. LOUIS.—Bill Terry who is seldom wrong has an idea that Babe Ruth will manage the Yankees next year, with Colonel Ruppert paying Joe McCarthy $40,000 in fulfillment of the last year of his contract, and sending him away from there. Terry makes it unanimous by asserting that the New York Americans would make a grave mistake in not retaining Ruth as a buy-or show window, if nothing else. But baseball men point out that Ruth, the pinch hitter, quickly would take on the dimensions of a barrel on stilts. In the last few years it has been difficult for the Bum to keep down to playing weight as a regular, and his figure hasn't been anything sybilike. Dean Worth $200,000 Terry puts Dizzy Dean in a museum by declaring him to be worth $200,000. While the Giants would dig deep for Dean, their managers does not believe they could afford to pay what the Cardinals would ask were the Oklahoma put on the market. "If the Cubs gave $125,000 for Chuck Klein, whom I never considered a great ball player, Dean is worth $200,000," said Terry. The efficient guide of the Giants attributes the Dean brothers difficulty with Frank Frisch and the St. Louis club to "too many bosses." Sam Brandon, Branch Rickey, and Frisch, each has a say in the direction of the Red Birds. Cards Club to Beat Dean trouble or no, the Giants still figure the Cardinals as the outfit they have to beat. The Giants recalled Hank Leiber and Phil Weintraub from Nashville to add momentum to their drive down the stretch, while the Cardinals, with their eight substitutes, sit still. "The Cardinals hesitate about bringing reinforcements from Columbus or Rochester, clubs fighting for the pennant in their respective leagues," explains Terry. "The Cardinals' losses are made up by what is earned in Columbus and Rochester." Rickey's chain store system now is serving a purpose other than that for which it was cut out. The children now support the parent, through sales as well as gate receipts. When business conditions improve, it over, Terry suggests that the St. Louis National League franchise be transferred to Detroit. Newark is the place for it, he adds, but the difficulty with that would be an unbalanced circuit.

Seeks Bartell, Lindstrom Terry is said to have offered the Phillies a half dozen players, including Johnny Vergez, Blandly Ryan, Frank O'Doul, Homer Peel and George Green. Dick Bartell, Post and Grantham went to Nashville as replacements for Weintraub and Leiber. Terry is believed to have given up on Vergez, who is hitting only .210, and has straightened up to throw. Ryan definitely is an all-American out. Terry tells us that O'Doul has slowed up, and no longer can play regularly. Because he feels that Freddie Lindstrom now has the managerial beat of his former, Terry would like to bring the Pittsburgh outfielder back to the Giants and use him at third base, where he formerly starred. Billy Myers, for whom the Giants are reported to have given the Cardinals a Columbus branch $25,000 and two players, is to get a thorough trial at shortstop next spring. If he makes the hill, Travis Jackson will be switched to the far turn where Stoney will go sooner or later in order to prolong his brilliant career.

Shivering with Chills

Burning with Fever
Sure Relief for Malaria
Don't try homemade treatments or newfangled remedies. Take that good old Groves' Tasteless Chill Tonic. Soon you will be yourself again, for Groves' Tasteless Chill Tonic not only relieves the symptoms of Malaria, but destroys the infection itself. The tasteless quinine in Groves' Tasteless Chill Tonic kills the Malaria infection in the blood while the iron it contains builds up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and fortify against further attack. The twofold effect is absolutely necessary to the overcoming of Malaria. Besides being a dependable remedy for Malaria, Groves' Tasteless Chill Tonic is also an excellent tonic of general use. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle today at any store. Now two sizes—50c and $1. The $1 size contains 50c more than the 50c size and gives you 25% more for your money.

WOMAN 92 YEARS OLD

Has Used "Mendenhall's" Chill Tonic Over 30 Years

92 Years Old
Mrs. Agnes Rendlemen
Alto Pass, Ill.
Agnes Rendlemen, Alto Pass, Ill., dictates the following letter to her grand-daughter, Agnes Ginn, a registered pharmacist:
"I am 92 years old, mother of eight children, all living. Have used Mendenhall's Malaria Chill and Fever Tonic over thirty years for Malaria, Chills and Fever, Constipation, and as a general tonic. Also for Colds and Coughs due to colds. It has its place in our medicine chest all the year around."
NOTE: We make Mendenhall's Malaria Chill and Fever Tonic in two forms—solid and without arsenic. As to the value of our Chill Tonic with arsenic, we quote from the U. S. Dispensary: "Arsenic is the most successful agent in the treatment of chronic malaria, and is also a powerful tonic. It increases the appetite and digestion, weight and strength of the patient, and has great power to improve the condition of the blood. It is one of the few substances which deserve the name of a 'general tonic'."

Denies Speculation Is Aid to Industry—John T. Flynn Is Bitter in Attack on Wall Street

By BRUCE CATTON
In "Security Speculation: Its Economic Effects," the redoubtable John T. Flynn boldly attacks the theory that stock market speculation performs an essential function in modern life. The theory is that while speculation often leads to excesses, it does create and preserve a market for capital without which industry could not be financed. Mr. Flynn denies this in toto. To begin with, he asserts that nearly every great industry in the land was built with money obtained in some other place than Wall Street. As a general rule, he says, an industry goes to Wall Street to market an issue of common stock only when it is already successful. Furthermore, he declares that a going concern in need of new capital seldom gets anything resembling its money's worth through a common stock issue floated in the regular way. He tops this by denying the common contention that Wall Street at least performs the task of putting a fair market price on industrial securities. The day-to-day oscillations of security speculation and have no relation to the industry's actual worth. Then, by way of conclusion, he says:

will last, approximately, from 11 p.m. to 6 or 7 in the morning, during that time the sleep of Londoners will be protected, and roving traffic cops will crack down on any driver who touches his kleson button.

Anyone who has lost sleep—and who hasn't—because some goof of a motorist is unable to proceed two blocks without sounding his horn lustily, will approve of this regulation. The average motorist uses his horn far too much.

Indeed, traffic might be a great deal safer if drivers generally made a practice of using their brakes instead of their horns when they saw some person or vehicle in the right of way ahead of them.

Further Utility Probe Requested

Federal Trade Board to Ask Congress for More Power

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The federal trade commission, it was disclosed on Thursday, probably will ask congress for continuous power to investigate public utilities any time it chooses.

By giving such authority to the commission, it would be similar to the agency, officials believed many abuses could be curbed with a constant threat of publicity.

The suggestion may be contained in a report the commission will make to the next congress on its seven-year investigation of electric and gas companies. Already the commission has collected 60 volumes of testimony, and its investigators say it has saved consumers millions of dollars.

Continuous investigation does not mean that the commission would go on with its detailed analysis of the industry, but simply that it would watch outstanding developments.

The commission's findings as a result of its long inquiry are expected to be used by the power committee that was appointed by President Roosevelt to study the whole utility set-up.

The framework of the report will consist of four main divisions, the financial disclosures of the investigation; the sensational propaganda charges; legal aspects of the problem and conclusions and recommendations.

Escaped Madmen Still at Liberty

Swamps and Towns Are Combed—No Trace Is Found

RALEIGH, N. C. —(AP)—Seven maniacal criminals who broke out of the state hospital played a successful game Thursday of hide-and-seek with the law.

The insane men who planned their escape Wednesday with unguessed ease, left no trace behind them. Not once in the 24-hour manhunt through the swamps and towns have the searchers picked up a "hot" trail.

The delivery was led by Ed Deaver, a convicted murderer, saved from the electric chair by commutation of his sentence, who was quoted by a guard as saying:

"If I come back it will be with my toes turned up."

He and three other inmates escaped from their cells, apparently by unlocking the doors with a piece of bed spring. Welding parts of rocking chairs, they surprised two guards and forced them into the "bull pen."

Proceeding methodically, they took a guard's key and released three other inmates, tossing back the keys as they left. An armed watchman outside the building did not see them as they stole away in the darkness.

false balances. Men count it wealth to have the gains of what Micah calls "the bag of deceitful weights."

What is to be said of such wealth and of the men who have thus acquired it? Micah says that they are full of violence and lies, and that their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

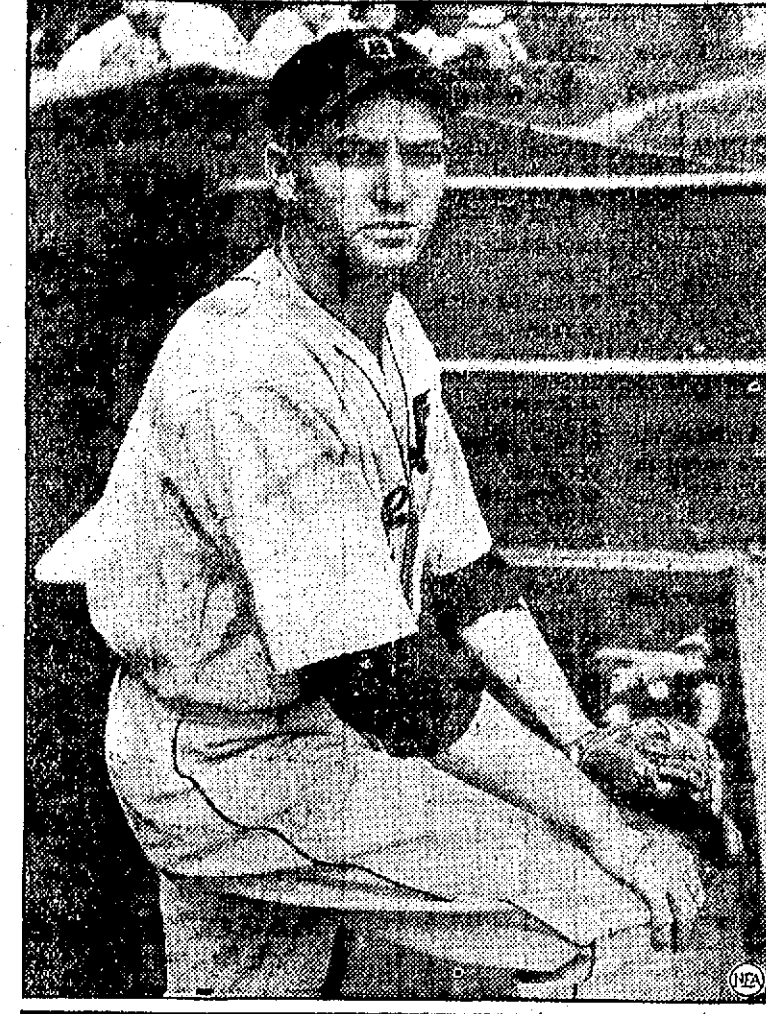

With what plain and pointed application such words and their direct meaning are effective for the life of today, centuries after they were expressed! The world with all its show of progress and of culture still lags far behind the vision and the courage and the simple honesty of its saints and prophets.

Why will not men turn from falsity and deceit and crookedness in their dealings one with another, and in the standards and practices that they set up for the guidance and governance of peoples?

What greater task is there before us than to bring into our personal lives, into our businesses, into our citizenship, and into all the relationships of life the simple religion of doing justly, of loving mercy, and of walking humbly with God?

This was the religion that Jesus came to fulfill.

Storm Threat On Gulf Disappears

Menace of Hurricane Vanishes On Texas Coastal Area

HOUSTON —(AP)—Residents of the Texas coast breathed easily again on Thursday for the first time in several days as the menace of a tropical hurricane disappeared.

A weather bureau advisory at 8:30 a.m. located the storm about 280 miles southwest of Port Eads, La. Officials of the coast guard district headquarters at Galveston said that if the storm moved according to the advisory it probably would go inland around St. Andrews bay in Florida, Panama City is the largest town near the bay.

The coast guard discontinued its hourly reports from stations along the coast at 10 p.m. Wednesday. Conditions were then practically normal.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep... Vigor... Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, wetting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and diabetes.

If kidneys don't empty 8 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS... a doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS... the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist or 1924 Foster-McBride Co.
